

Why get involved?

- Help tackle the biodiversity crisis.
- Improve eco-literacy.
- Rewild our schools.
- Boost physical & mental wellbeing through outdoor learning.

We are Ireland's national biodiversity education organisation. Our aim is to empower young people across Ireland to help nature by giving them the support they need.

We're about creating real impact and work with Ireland's leading businesses, charities and public bodies to deliver this change.

We have a track record in innovation - rolling out Ireland's first ever biodiversity education officer network and creating the Nature Hero Award, the national mark of excellence in outdoor education.
